Tuition for the 2011-2012 school year was as follows. For a full time student tuition was $32, 750 per academic year. For an evening part time student tuition $24,560 per academic year. If taking less than 10 hours, tuition was $1,350 per credit hour.

Student Services Fee (July 1, 2005): Nova Southeastern University's (NSU's) Board of Trustees approved the implementation of a student services fee. Beginning July 1, 2005, full-time students taking four or more hours will pay $250 per semester. Part-time students taking less than four hours or enrolled in a single four hour course will pay $125 per semester. The total amount for a full time student enrolled year-round will not exceed $750 annually. Part-time student fees will not exceed $375 annually. Students enrolled in programs with more than three semesters a year will pay a pro-rated amount.

"This service fee has been adopted by the Board will enhance the services offered to our students that improve health, safety and welfare, and support the ongoing technological advancements that have become a hallmark for NSU as an institution of higher education," said NSU's president Ray Ferrero, Jr., J.D.
